HOW DAYLIGHT GOT ITS NAME

*This little poem you are about to read
Will not blow your mind or cause you to succeed*

*It will tell the tale of Daylight town
And about some of the people that were around*

*About 1884 the railroad tracks were laid
Across Green River Road cause it was a flat grade*

*At this location there were trees everywhere
And hardly any people as history will bare*

*They dropped off a boxcar by the side of the tracks
And took off the wheels so it wouldn't roll back*

*The train would then stop and leave lots of stuff
And then start again with a huff and a puff*

*It would leave Evansville in the dark of the day
And arrive at the boxcar when the sun arose so they say*

*Then the old timers that ran the train
Said we'll be in Daylight snow, shine or rain*

*The Grimwood family owned most of the land
And they sold it off without a great plan*

*Then the railroad built four shotgun shacks
So the railroad workers could live near the tracks*

*Grimwood built a big house on the south end of town
And he dug three wells where water was found*

*Then a big red tavern was built in the town
The drinkers would come and then dance on the ground*

*The beer drinkers would buggy their asses to here
Then stay at the tavern till the sun did appear*

*They all said Daylight should be the name of this town
Because the trains are here till light comes around*

*So that's the two stories of how the town got its name
If you don't believe it, it sure is a shame*

*Then some saw a chance on how to make money
They built two stores and sold milk and honey*

*The farmers would come to buy food, feed and beer
And other things were happening, I hear*

*A feed mill arose to sell feed and grind grain
And the building was set by the tracks and the train*

*Horses and buggies were losing out
As the Model T Ford was coming about*

*These mechanical contraptions needed to be fixed
And the man at the tavern said he has got this*

*So the tavern was purchased by a man named Minner
He could fix everything and the garage was a winner*

*Then a one legged man by the name of Young
Sold roofing and gutters and gutters he hung*

*He also could fix everything of that day
His wealth did increase, the people did say*

*Many other businesses arose in this town
And some men and the women were looking around*

*So this poem has revealed how the town got its name
And your thoughts about Daylight will not be the same*

*Here in Daylight it really never gets dark
Cause the people of Daylight throw quite a spark*

*Their sparks really light up the whole Daylight town
And the darkness leaves and light does abound*

*The saying around you will always hear
It's always Daylight at the Frontier*
